DETAILED ACTION

Claim 26 provides for the use of "claim 25", but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 26 results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Hence, the claim has been withdrawn and not been further treated on the merits.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Groups I-XIV, claim(s) 1-22 (in part), drawn to DNA transfer vectors containing one of SEQ ID NOs 1-14. In order, Group I contains SEQ ID NO: 1, Group II contains SEQ ID NO: 2, etc.

Group XV, claim(s) claims 23 and 24, drawn to a pharmaceutical preparation containing at least two different vectors from Groups I-XIV. Should Group XV be elected, two SEQ ID NOs from claim 14 must be elected for reasons set forth below.

Group XVI, claim(s) 25, drawn to a method for treatment of a subject by administration of a DNA transfer vector from Groups I-XIV.

The inventions listed as Groups I-XVI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature linking Groups I-XVI are the different sequences found in SEQ ID NOs 1-14 . These sequences are fragments from the rat and human $p185^{neu}$ genes that encode the respective neu protein. These sequences were widely known in the prior art, as were DNA vectors comprising these sequences. See Coussens et al (Science, 1985) and Chen et al (Cancer Res., 1998, of record) for vectors comprising the human and rat sequences, respectively. The instant claims are worded with open language, i.e. the vectors "contain" the listed SEQ ID NOs, hence, a DNA vector comprising the entire $p185^{neu}$ gene is considered to be anticipatory of the claimed fragments.

Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of Groups I-XVI does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the prior art.

The technical feature of Group I is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 1.

The technical feature of Group II is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 2.

The technical feature of Group III is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 3.

The technical feature of Group IV is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 4.

The technical feature of Group V is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 5.

The technical feature of Group VI is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 6.

The technical feature of Group VII is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 7.

The technical feature of Group VIII is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 8.

The technical feature of Group IX is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 9.

The technical feature of Group X is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 10.

The technical feature of Group XI is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 11.

The technical feature of Group XII is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 12.

The technical feature of Group XIII is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 13.

The technical feature of Group XIV is considered to be DNA transfer vector containing SEQ ID NO: 14.

The technical feature of Group XV is considered to be a pharmaceutical preparation containing at least two different vectors from Groups I-XIV.

The technical feature of Group XVI is considered to be a method for treatment of a subject by administration of a DNA transfer vector from Groups I-XIV.

Accordingly, Groups I-XVI are not so linked by the same concept or a corresponding technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
